

ADMITS HE RANSACKED HOUSE HERE

Ocean Snider, Arrested in Connersville For Stealing Automobile, Wanted in Rushville

IDENTIFIED BY LOCAL MAN

Confesses Having Tried to Loot Roy Waggener's Home When Confronted by Clarence Walden

FRIENDS TO TAKE GOODS

Will Probably Be Arraigned in Connersville for Vehicle Taking—Wanted on Other Charges

Ocean Snider of this city is in jail in Connersville on a charge of stealing an automobile, and is wanted in this city for having broken into the home of Roy Waggener, Eleven and Morgan streets, after having been identified by Clarence Walden as the one whom he met leaving the house when the robbery was discovered last Saturday afternoon.

According to Sheriff Hunt, who went to Connersville with Mr. Walden and Police Chief Blackburn, the young man admitted his guilt and confessed to having entered the house. He also is implicated in the theft of offices at Greensburg on the week before, when a physician's office was ransacked and an overcoat stolen, and also a kit of narcotics.

The drug outfit was found in the Waggener house, but according to the police, the drugs had been emptied, leaving only the empty vials and needles.

Snider was arrested in Connersville early Wednesday morning. According to the officers, he was standing beside a machine that had been stolen from Bentonville, north of Connersville. The machine had run out of gasoline, and was parked in an alley in the business district.

The officers state that Snider admitted crawling into a garage nearby and obtained a quantity of gasoline from a car parked inside, and as he came out of the garage, two police officers came down the dark alley, and came upon him as he laid the can on the running board. He was questioned concerning the machine, and when he did not give a good account of it, the officers took him to jail.

He later told them that he had not stolen the car but another person from Rushville had done it, and he was with him. However, the police are holding him on that charge, and he will be arraigned in the circuit court there, when the court convenes in a few days.

Officers from here were notified, and they went over to Connersville Wednesday afternoon to consult with the prisoner. According to Sheriff Hunt, Snider denied any connection locally, but when Mr. Walden identified him, and the local officers were preparing to leave, Snider is said to have admitted it.

Sheriff Hunt stated that Snider wanted to come back here to face the charge, instead of answering to a vehicle taking charge on Connersville, but officers of that city have first option, and if they do not arraign him, he will be brought here to answer to a burglary charge, which carries a ten to 20 year sentence, according to Gates Ketchum, prosecutor.

When arrested Snider is said to have had on clothes stolen from the Waggener home, and which were identified by Mr. Walden as belonging to Mr. Waggener. Even the undergarments are said to have had Mr. Waggener's laundry stamp.

It will be recalled that the home was ransacked here, and the robbery discovered when Mr. Walden went to the house late in the afternoon last Saturday, and was met at the front door by a young man.

The man told him that he wanted to get warm and had entered by the way of the back door, which he said was unlocked. After Mr. Walden had believed him, he told the man to get in his machine and he would take him to a place where he could get warm, but the man disappeared.

After Mr. Walden entered the house, he found that it had been

Flood Devastates Holston River Valley and Parmertown Va., When Dam Gives Away

FIFTEEN HOMES SWEEP AWAY

(By United Press)

Saltville, Va., Dec. 26—Thirteen bodies have been recovered and seven persons were still missing today in the wake of the flood which devastated the Holston river valley and Parmertown, Va., Christmas eve.

Fifteen homes in the little mill settlement were swept away before a torrent of white mud and water when the dam of the Mathieson alkali works gave way.

The entire valley was inundated by the mud and water which was released on the village without warning when the storage dam burst.

Nineteen injured were being treated in an emergency hospital here.

Several have contracted pneumonia as a result of the exposure in the icy water and others were severely burned by alkali in the mud.

Scores of others made homeless by the flood were given shelter in the local homes and business houses.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT IN ABDOMEN BY SON

Mrs. Conrad Kney Not Expected to Recover From Wound Suffered Christmas Afternoon

INTESTINES ARE PUNCTURED

Woman of Manilla Vicinity Removed to Hospital for Operation—Morris, 16, Held Gun

Mrs. Erminie Kney, forty-three years of age, wife of Conrad Kney, living one mile east of Manilla, was probably fatally shot by her son, Morris, age sixteen years, at their home Thursday afternoon about four o'clock.

The shooting was accidental. Mrs. Kney was removed to the Major Memorial hospital for an operation, but little hope was held out today for her recovery.

Young Kney was preparing for a short hunting trip and was examining his .22 calibre rifle when his glove caught in the trigger and caused it to fire.

The bullet struck Mrs. Kney in the abdomen and punctured her intestines in four different places.

Dr. D. E. Barnett was called and Mrs. Kney was rushed to the hospital when the seriousness of her condition was discovered.

Dr. Deprez Inlow, formerly of Manilla, performed an operation to remove the bullet, but very grave doubt was expressed as to her ability to recover from the wound.

The boy was grief-stricken over the Christmas day tragedy, which will probably cost the life of his mother.

He is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Kney. They had finished Christmas dinner only a short time before the boy had decided on a short hunting trip before dark.

Mrs. Kney is widely known in the Manilla vicinity. She is the daughter of Mrs. Charles McDaniel and a niece of Erosius MacDaniel of Shelbyville.

The shooting recalls a holiday tragedy in the Manilla neighborhood a year ago when, on Friday, December 28, Russell Rifter, age 19, was killed when a 12 gauge shotgun exploded by accident in his hands. The tragedy happened on a half mile west of Manilla.

LOG FALLS ON LEG, BROKEN

Milton Long suffered a badly broken leg Wednesday afternoon when he was assisting his cousin, Ralph Bowen, in loading logs on Mr. Snider's farm, north of Orange. In some manner they lost control of one of the logs they were loading and it fell on one of Mr. Long's legs, breaking two bones.

Young Woman Rides 12 Miles on Front of Engine After Auto Crash

Mrs. Kenneth Clark, 18, Clings to Cow Catcher of Speeding Locomotive When it Strikes Machine. Near Indianapolis, But Loses Consciousness and Falls Off Due to Extreme Cold—Impact Not Noticed on Train

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 26—Smiling gamely from a hospital cot, Mrs. Kenneth Clark, 18 today deprecated the movie thriller in real life in which she rode twelve miles through zero weather on the cow catcher of a speeding locomotive which had crashed into her automobile.

"It was just a natural thing to do," she said. "When the engine hit our car and I was thrown into the air, my hands went out above my head and they caught something in the dark—God knows what. But I held on for dear life and realized soon that I was clinging to the front end of the engine and riding fast. So I stuck, but the cold air seemed to eat right into my bones and pretty soon I didn't seem to remember much and there I guess I passed out of the picture."

Mrs. Clark smiled again. The next thing she remembered was when she was lying in a bed in a farm house with a group of people trying to restore her to consciousness.

"It seemed like I was waking up out of a dream," she said.

The Knickerbocker Special on the Big Four railroad travelling into New York at a sixty mile speed, struck an automobile in which Mrs. Clark was riding at a crossing in Indianapolis. Three members of Mrs. Clark's family were injured in the accident, but the impact was not noticeable to the crew of the train because of the speed at which they were travelling.

Kenneth Clark, recovering from shock of the accident, notified storekeepers across the street from the crossing and aid was summoned, but his wife could not be found.

County and city authorities formed searching parties and searched in the darkness along the track. An agent at "a jerk water" station notified police he saw a woman riding the pilot of the Knickerbocker Special locomotive, screaming and waving a handkerchief.

A special switch engine trailed the fast train to Fort Harrison and returned to Indianapolis. Farther on, near Oaklandon, twelve miles from the scene of the accident a farmer picked up the girl's unconscious form and notified authorities.

RESIDENTS OF BABBS SWITCH BURY THE DEAD

Thirty-Three Men, Women and Children Perish in Flames Near Hobart, Oklahoma

SCHOOL HOUSE A DEATH TRAP

Hobart, Okla., Dec. 26—With Christmas a haunting memory, residents of Babbs Switch, small community seven miles south, gathered here today to bury the thirty-three men, women and children who perished in a disastrous Christmas eve fire which made the small community school house a death trap.

The charred remains of another body, believed to be Lilly Reill, was removed from the ruins of what was school house No. 42 last night.

Most of the 37 injured are expected to die momentarily.

Resting in plain black caskets, the simplicity of which bore out their Puritanic mode of living, sixteen of the victims will be at a union funeral service here this afternoon.

Grim faced men, part of the 180 persons who escaped the licking tongues of the flames which enveloped the small one-story frame building when a tiny candle in the top of the large Christmas tree overturned, were busy digging graves in the ice-covered ground this morning.

FATE IN HANDS OF NINE WOMEN AND THREE MEN

Case in Which "Kid" McCoy is Accused of Murder of Mrs. Teresa Mors Goes to the Jury

INSTRUCTIONS BY THE COURT

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 26—The fate of Kid McCoy was today in the hands of nine women and three men.

To them goes the task of deciding whether the former idol of the fight arena and man of many loves, will hang because his last affair had its ending in death.

Charges with the murder of Mrs. Teresa Mors, McCoy listened intently while Superior Judge Crail instructed the jury. The "Kid" was depressed and revealed the anxiety which gripped him.

Judge Crail charged the jury not to consider McCoy's action on the morning after Mrs. Mors' death when he "shot up" the antique shop she and her husband owned.

"Take into consideration the condition of the defendant with respect to his mental state," the court instructed. He closed with reference to McCoy's story that Mrs. Mors was killed while he tried to prevent her from committing suicide.

"If you entertain a reasonable belief that the woman died from committing suicide," the judge admonished, "then it will be your duty to find the defendant not guilty."

COUNTY AUDITOR IS INDICTED

Leo K. Fesler is Accused of Altering Marion County Record

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 26—Leo K. Fesler, county auditor of Marion county, for eight years ending December 21, 1923, was indicted today by the county grand jury on a charge of altering a public record.

Fesler, at present Republican member of the county election board is accused of changing an ordinance passed by the county council, May 10, 1923, authorizing sale of county land to Fairbanks, Morse and Company, so the company could obtain more land than the council intended to sell.

MRS. DAN MILES DIES

Relatives here have received word of the death of Mrs. Dan Miles, aged 50 years, which occurred Christmas eve at the late residence in Dayton, Ohio. Double pneumonia was the cause of the death. Mrs. Miles was born and reared in this city and has many relatives living here.

CHRISTMAS LIQUOR CLAIMS FEWER LIVES

Number of Fatalities Smaller Than in 1923 Though Hospitals Are Filled With Those Who Partook

SEVERAL EXPECTED TO DIE

(By United Press)

Poison Christmas liquor claimed fewer lives this year than in 1923, figures from the nation's principal cities indicated today. While hospitals are filled with those who partook of the liquor, the number of fatalities was smaller.

Three deaths occurred in New York and four of twenty-two others who are in hospitals may die. Chicago reported two deaths, Austin, Cleveland and Scranton, Pa., one each. There were no deaths in Philadelphia, although thirty victims are in hospitals. San Antonio, Texas, reported two women dying.

Last Christmas there were five deaths in New York city from poison liquor.

COLDEST CHRISTMAS ON RECORD LOCALLY

Mercury Drops to Ten Degrees Below Zero Thursday Morning and Almost as Low This Morning

ABUNDANCE OF GOOD CHEER

Children of the Unfortunates Remembered and 175 Dinners Distributed—Suffering From Cold

(By United Press)

Chicago, Dec. 26—Another cold wave will hit the northwest tonight and sweep eastward and southward across the middle districts tomorrow, the weather bureau announced today.

Rather cold weather prevails over most of the country, the bureau stated.

A redevelopment of the cold wave was reported at Alberta. Temperatures there range from 30 below to 40 below zero.

It is 18 below in Grand Junction, Colo., 12 below in Flagstaff, Ariz., and in Boise, Idaho, 8 below in Salt Lake City, Utah, and 18 below in points in Nevada.

Rush county celebrated Christmas Thursday in the coldest weather within the memory of most people.

The day was ushered in with the thermometer at ten degrees below zero and the mercury did not rise many degrees above zero during the day.

Although cold, the day was ideal for Christmas, with a blanket of snow covering the earth, even though the extremely cold weather caused suffering among many poor people without sufficient heat in their homes.

The temperature was the lowest of the winter Christmas morning and during Thursday night the mercury went down to eight below zero.

Although the weather was moderating today, the weather bureau forecast another cold wave on the heels of the present one, which will bring sub-zero temperatures again to the middle west.

An hour after sunrise this morning the government thermometer at Maunzy showed a rise of twelve degrees and during the day the mercury continued to climb, but did not reach freezing.

Christmas cheer was abundant in Rushville. One hundred and seventy-five families had good Christmas dinners, due to the work of local charitable organizations and the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Santa Claus fund. This fund was also responsible for one hundred and sixty-five children being made happy, whose Christmas would otherwise have been cheerless.

Uncle Sam's employees, working at high speed, delivered every Christmas parcel to Rushville addresses that was received Christmas morning, the delivery being completed by 11:15 o'clock. First class mail was not delivered, due to the order that all postal employees should stop work at eleven o'clock. No mail was delivered on the rural routes.

CITY ALMOST UP TO 1923

Ripley Township Leads Group of Townships Heard From Today With Sales of $45.18

The 1923 high mark in the Christmas Seals and Health Bond campaign appeared nearer today with reports having been received from all but two townships in the county—Washington and Orange.

The total to date is $1,768.27 and workers in the campaign are anxious that a few sales in Rushville city unreported and the two townships will be sufficient to raise the fund up to, if not above the amount raised in 1923, which was in excess of $1,800.

Noble township continued to hold the lead outside the city with sales amounting to $52.05.

In Rushville city the receipts this year—$1,422.91—were almost the equal of city sales last year when $1,433.65 was raised here. In 1922 the city sales were $1,332.52.

Walker, Anderson, Center, Jackson and Ripley townships reported today, Ripley leading this group with receipts of $45.18.

In the Jackson township list appears the sale of a bond without the name of the purchaser being given. The Farm Bureau and children of the township school are jointly entitled to the credit as the women of the farm bureau held a function at the school and the children were largely purchasers of the things which were sold. The money thus raised was used to buy the bond.

Removing Tattoo Marks

Although tattoo marks generally are asserted to be indelible if produced by the insertion of some carbonaceous matter, it is said they will disappear if first well rubbed with a salve of pure acetic acid and lard, then with a solution of potash and finally with a solution of hydrochloric acid. It would be advisable to consult a skin specialist.

Di-Jo Relieves Indigestion

There is no doubt that many people suffer needlessly from indigestion and stomach trouble. If they only knew the relief that can be secured through Di-Jo Tablets this number would be much less.

Most cases of indigestion arise from overeating, eating too fast or eating the wrong kind of food. In all such cases a few Di-Jo Tablets after each meal will give almost instant relief to that heavy, bloated feeling, belching or sour stomach.

The simple drugs used in the preparation of Di-Jo are intended for just such relief and are the same as prescribed by family physicians for years. They are packed in convenient form for your use.

Try Di-Jo Tablets and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell and recommend them.

If you are troubled with constipation take DI-VAC. It is sold by all druggists, and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

WILL NOT REMOVE TROOPS BY JAN. 10

Germany Informed by British That They Will Not Evacuate Cologne as Agreed in Treaty

VIOLATED TERMS. IS CHARGE

Complaint is Made That Disarmament Obligations Have Not Been Carried Out by Germany

By A. L. BRADFORD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Dec. 26—The allies will inform Germany that British troops will not evacuate Cologne, by January 10 as stipulated in the Versailles treaty.

The reason given will be that Germany has not fulfilled her disarmament obligations.

This, the United Press learned will be a joint answer to representations concerning the evacuation made by German ambassadors at allied capitals.

Reports from Berlin indicate the Germans are exercised because the First or Cologne zone, is not to be evacuated as provided in Article 429 of the Versailles treaty. This called for a return of the first zone of occupied Germany within five years of the coming into effect of the treaty, or by January 10, 1925.

The allied attitude, however, is that provision was made that Germany must have faithfully carried out other conditions of the treaty. The principal one of these had to do with disarmament of Germany.

A report of the inter-allied control commission regarding Germany's disarmament was received yesterday by Marshal Foch's interallied military committee, which met to make recommendations about the evacuation of Cologne. It was learned that the report indicated that Germany has not fulfilled the treaty requirements.

The council of allied ambassadors will meet Friday to discuss Marshal Foch's recommendations and undoubtedly will decide that Cologne shall not be evacuated.

That Germany herself knows this is indicated by the fact that when the German ambassador at London called upon Austin Chamberlain, British foreign secretary and presented his government's demand for evacuation of Cologne, he suggested that Great Britain reply separately indicating to Germany some good reason why evacuation could not be effect at present. The reason as both Chamberlain and the German envoy knew was that the French would promptly move in if the British moved out.

But Great Britain declined to make a separate reply.

"Sweeping" the Clouds

The failed performance of the old woman of the nursery rhyme who "swept" the cobwebs out of the sky has a scientific parallel in the ability of aviators under some conditions to brush small clouds out of the sky by flying through them rapidly, says London Tit-Bits. A fair-sized summer cumulus or fair-weather cloud may sometimes be dispersed by about twenty flights through it.

Where Walnuts Flourish
Commercial success in growing the English walnut is found only in southern California. In the Eastern states, so far as the present data show, it may be said that the Persian walnut flourishes on all soils upon which the black walnut is found, and under favorable conditions on some others. Sandy loams, clay loams and gravelly loams if not too open, are suitable for the growth of this tree.

The League Controversy

The whole league of nations controversy, that aroused so much political ire in recent years, may be revived by the representations of Germany, which seeks to have the rights of neutrals defined and to determine the extent of the moral obligations of member nations to enforce Article 10.

Students of the subject say that Germany's claims are based on the same principles as were contained in the famous reservations to Article 10, which were written by the late Senator Lodge and around which the campaign of 1916 was largely fought.

Freed from the rancor that political prejudices cause, a full and free discussion of these questions in the United States might be of some advantage, because it is becoming clearer every day that this country can not remain entirely aloof from European affairs.

Germany has placed before the league squarely the question of interpreting Articles 10 and 16, a thing which the league has evaded so far.

If the league should place a liberal interpretation on these two articles, certainly the United States would again have to make known its attitude, because acceptance of Germany's position with respect to these two articles would be tantamount to inviting the United States into the league.

Refusing to come over to Germany's way of thinking would place the league in a hazardous position, because it could scarcely insure the peace of Europe with Germany not in accord with its attitude.

Furthermore, the league can never be of really vital importance in world affairs without the most powerful nation, the United States, in full sympathy with its program and ready to help carry it out.

When Tragedy Stalks

A picture—An automobile filled with happy people returning home with thoughts of a happy Christmas; a steep grade at the top of which is a railroad crossing; automobile engine chokes climbing hill and stalls on crossing; train, running fast to make up lost time snuffs out the lives of four persons and fatally injures a fifth.

Another picture—A district school house packed to the doors; nearly all the bags of good things have been passed into anxious little hands, Jolly Santa Claus reaches for the last one and knocks over a candle on the Christmas tree; cotton used for decorations flames up; scores rush forward to put out the fire; the tree falls and the dry cedar pops as the blaze devours the dry branches; frenzied people break out window panes and the wind fans the flames; thirty-two dead all because of thoughtlessness.

This is not fiction but fact. The man who drove the automobile knew the train crossed the highway at the top of the steep grade and he knew that motor engines were likely to balk on cold days.

But he didn't think.
The Santa Claus who played with death in the little district school knew the danger of fire was great and that lighted candles on dry Christmas trees decorated with cotton and flimsy ornaments were the tinder that would cause the tragedy which was enacted.

But he didn't think.

When tragedy stalks, the principals never think. And there's the pity. Countless victims fill graves all too soon because someone failed to think.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The Philippines hint, through the Department of Labor and communications at Manila, that they would like to join the League of Nations if they could, is taken in rather unexpected fashion in Washington, considering the general policy of the dominant political party of today.

"Oh, if the islands only could be unloaded onto the league!"

That's the tone of a great deal of the comment heard from men high enough in administration councils to know how the government really feels.

The truth is, the Philippines are embarrassing President Coolidge seriously.

American business interests in the archipelago are considerable, but they are in the hands of a comparatively small group, which the president knows the vast majority of people in the United States have small inclination to give money and blood to protect.

So long as there seemed to be no prospect that such expenditures were going to be required, it was all very well for the Washington government to endorse the group's contention that America is morally bound to keep the flag flying over the islands.

Now, however, with the whole American people at home clamoring for economy, comes the Japanese threat, meaning huge naval expenditures for the islands' safety—and for nothing else.

The Philippines are America's weak spot.

They're a liability rather than an asset, but the United States couldn't afford to have them taken away from her forcibly, even if it would be a relief.

By grabbing them, Japan, at any time, could compel this country to go to war with her.

THE advantage would be all with Japan. America would have to keep her fleet on duty in Philippine waters.

There alone could the Japanese strike at her, so that's where her fighting ships would have to be. So concentrated, they couldn't guard American merchant vessels elsewhere in the Pacific. American trade would be driven from the sea.

It might suffer even on the Atlantic. A Japanese raider or two could at least render it insecure.

But if it weren't for the Philippines? If the United States were not responsible for them?

Leaving them out of consideration, there's little Japan can do to this country.

A FEW airplanes, submarines and mines could adequately protect the Pacific coast and Hawaii, the enemy would be forced to fight at such long range.

The Japanese navy might make trouble for American merchant ships in the western Pacific, but at the same time the American navy would be making corresponding trouble for Japanese merchant ships in the eastern part of the same ocean.

It would be war, but a war in which the United States would be at no disadvantage. She might even be at some advantage, through possession of Hawaii as a base, much nearer to Japan than any base Japan could find for herself in the direction of the American coast.

As a non-member, America has, of course, no means of getting her white elephant off from her own and onto the League of Nations' hands, but if the administration could, there's small question that it would, and as soon as possible.

Agnes Ayres at Princess

"Wordly Goods," a Paramount picturization of the novel by Sophie Kerr starring Agnes Ayres, will be the feature at the Princess theatre for a run of two days beginning today next. Paul Bern directed the production which was adapted for the screen by A. P. Younger.

The story is a fine domestic comedy-drama of real human people. It first appeared as a serial in the Ladies' Home Journal and has since proved unusually successful as a novel.

Miss Ayres has the role of Eleanor Lawson, young secretary of the manager of a large department store. Pat O'Malley is Fred Hopper whom she marries. He is an automobile salesman, gifted with a great line of talk and "high-falutin'" ideas of the future. In fact, he's all ideas and no initiative. Victor Varconi is cast as the store manager, Clifford Ramsay. It is about these three that the story revolves—and it's not the time-worn eternal triangle theme either, but something really new. Paul Bern is a new director ("Open All Night" was his first work for the screen), and he has introduced some novel ideas into "Wordly Goods."

LIONS SHOW STUFF THAT WINS GAMES

Pull Brownsburg Contest Out of the Fire When Defeat by Fast Visiting Five Seemed Inevitable

OVERCOME 14 POINT LEAD

Enough Bad Luck to Last all Seasons Cheated Rushville Out of Several Field Goals

Displaying another one of those famous last half comebacks, the Rushville Lions came from behind a fourteen point lead to win from Brownsburg high school here Wednesday night, and after getting started on their comeback, the locals left Brownsburg behind 45 to 40.

The Lions were clear off on hitting the basket and if they had made one-half of their shots in the first half, they could have won three or four games, but it seemed as if the ball would not go through the hoop for any player. On the other hand Brownsburg had luck with them from the start, and they could hit the basket from all angles.

The first half was a farce, as far as Brownsburg was concerned, because the ball would hit the rim, bounce off, or drop half way through and then jump out again, and no matter how much coaxing the Lions would do, it just simply wouldn't drop in the right direction. The first half ended 25 to 15 in favor of the visitors.

When the second half started, it appeared again to be the same bad luck, for Brownsburg soon piled up 29, leaving Rushville behind with their 15 points. It was at this point in the game that the locals started their climb, and from then on, the game speeded up with more enthusiasm, and before long the count was tied. The Lions displayed the fight that wins games, and Coach Swain is hoping that the ill luck has left the team, because they met Newcastle Saturday night in that city, and it will take real playing all of the way to win the game.

At the start of the game Wednesday night, McNamara fouled, and then Lakin fouled, and when the visiting players got loose, they hit the basket from all points, and the Lions seemed to be weakening on their defense. Brownsburg in the first few minutes ran the count up to 9 before Rushville counted.

Arbuckle for Rushville scored first, making one point on a foul, and missing the other. In the next few minutes the score was 13 to 1, but the Lions managed to get the score up to 7 before Brownsburg scored again. Then the teams went back and forth up the floor, Brownsburg having the best of things, with the first half ending 25 to 15.

At the start of the last half, the same thing happened again, with Brownsburg breaking loose on the basket, and Rushville failed to budge from their 15 points, while Brownsburg was collecting 29. It was apparently a run away for the visitors.

Jenkins, at this point in the game, fouled, but Arbuckle missed both times, and then on the tip-off Lakin grabbed a field goal which put renewed pep into the Lions. Then the locals were off. Baskets by Newbold, Arbuckle, Miller and Lakin, all in fast time, boosted the score 29 to 25.

Bell scored for the visitors, and then Lakin matched the goal for Rushville. Lakin scored one on a foul, that made the score 31 to 28. Lakin fouled and Webb scored on both chances for the visitors, making the score 33 to 28. Arbuckle dribbled through for a basket, but Brownsburg came right back and made one, putting the score 35 to 30.

Arbuckle and Newbold both

If everything didn't fit, you have three days in which to exchange it.

For a time Wednesday night, Hittin' 'em thought that we'd have a basketball game to exchange with someone, but the Lions finally got through and the Santa Claws brought in the victory over Brownsburg 45 to 40.

EVERY PLAYER ON THAT BROWNSBURG TEAM HAD AN EYE FOR THE BASKET. IT WAS EITHER LUCK, OR NATURAL ABILITY, AND FOR A TIME IT LOOKED LIKE BAD LUCK FOR RUSHVILLE.

Say you, Lions, don't fool like that with Newcastle Saturday night. Go into 'em early, watch your defense and never lay down when you get the lead.

That is one thing about these Lions, they never give up, no matter if they are 14 points behind.

TRAMP THOSE TROJANS!

Arlington plays at Carthage tonight. The game should be a real scrap, because of the rivalry between these teams.

Louis Means, former Moscow mentor, but now of New Palestine Red Bird fame, will be the referee for the Rushville-Carthage game next Friday at Carthage.

The Rushville crowd will have a cold road to Newcastle Saturday night, but the game should be a hot one to make up for the trip.

scored field goals, and Rushville was within one of tying the score, 35 to 34, and when Newbold dropped one through, the locals were ahead 36 to 35, and when a foul was called on Miller, the crowd hooted and the referee called another one on the crowd, giving Brownsburg two shots, and they made one, tying the score at 36 points. Then the visitors took a spurt and counted twice from the field, making it 40 to 36. It required only a minute for Rushville to get those two goals back, when McNamara and Lakin scored, and then Lakin counted again, making it 42 to 40.

Webb fouled for Brownsburg and Arbuckle scored one more, making it 43 to 40, and in the closing minute of play, Miller dropped a long one in from the side, making it 45 to 40 when the half was over.

The line-up and summary:
Rushville 45 Brownsburg 40
Newbold F H. Bell
Arbuckle F C. Bell
Lakin C Miller
McNamara G H. Webb
Miller G Jenkins
Substitutions, Winkelman for Jenkins. Field goals, Newbold 5, Arbuckle 3, Lakin 6, McNamara 2, Miller 3, Brownsburg: H. Bell 4, C. Webb 2, Miller 2, H. Webb 3, Jenkins, Winkelman. Referee Morrison, umpire Sheenaman.

Cubs Stage Rally Too

The Rushville second team also had to stage a last half rally in order to win from the Brownsburg seconds, who at the end of the first half were ahead 10 to 9, but in the last half Rushville went away ahead, and the final count was 27 to 13, with the visitors only making 3 points in the last half.

The Cubs showed better work in the game than in any previous contest, and the players worked well together.

The line-up and summary:
Rushville 27 Brownsburg 13
Newbold F McComm
R. Winkler F Bersott
Cartmel C Gullion
L. Winkler G J. Gladden
Cortner G Hughes
Substitutions, Rushville, Weakley, Risk and Morris; Brownsburg, Huddleston and H. Gladden. Field goals, Newbold 3, Cartmel 3, L. Winkler 3, McComm, Berott, H. Gladden 2; foul goals, Newbold 2, R. Winkler Cartmel 3, L. Winkler 3, McComm 4, H. Gladden. Referee Morrison.

MORRISTOWN WANTS A CHANCE

Morristown, Ind.

Dear Hittin' 'em:

There surely would be a tragedy for the Lions in the Lions den if Bill's wonders from Morristown should happen to mix with the Lions Morristown has won 11 out of 12 games and hasn't started good yet. We mean to take the Camels from Shelby this time, too.

Also ask Vance Downey about the Morristown K. of P. team. Here's luck,

TOUGH FOR SOMEONE

The sixteen teams comprising those in the invitational tourney for independent teams, will get started this afternoon at three o'clock in the big two-day series at Greensburg. Four Rush county teams are entered and Arlington drew probably the hardest of all, meeting the Commercial of Columbus. The drawing is as follows:

Milan vs Waldron
New Point vs Vevay
Hepe vs Moores Hill
Milroy vs Letts
Moscow vs Jackson
Columbus vs Arlington
Greensburg Y vs Felix Club (Indpls)
Fairland vs New Salem.

Show 'Em Your Stuff Mack, Ole Boy

Get ready girls, you are going to get another chance to see that good lookin' Rushville floor guard in action. He will be here with the Lions Saturday night.

WE HOPE SO!

Rushville plays at Newcastle Saturday night. The Rose City crew is improving right along as shown by their games with Marion and Muncie and ought to give the Lions a battle.

Hosier Courtship in the Richmond Palladium, gives his opinion of how a basketball team should be balanced. He says:

Forwards should know when to go in and when to stay out—When to shoot and when not to shoot and above all be able to come back on defense and still be the first down the floor on offense.

Centers should play consistently through the middle of the floor taking and sending passes to forwards, mixing them up to both sides.

Progressive guards should know the art of trailing to receive passes from men who get in jams up the court.

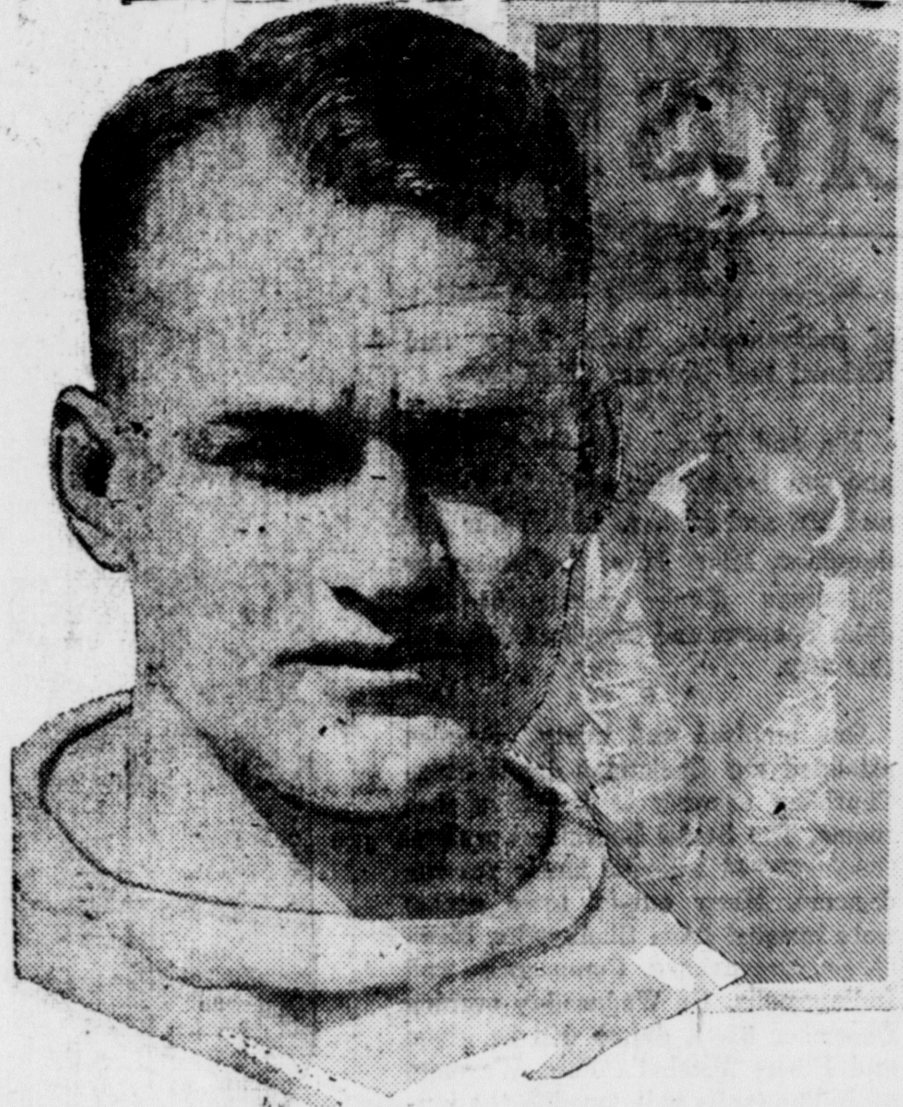

Last but not least, the backguard is the athlete that makes the impression in any game. If he gets the ball away with lightning work he is a good one but just let a man slip behind him for a short shot and that same backguard looks like he never had seen a basketball.

Vincennes, which boasts of being the only major team in Indiana high school circles without a defeat, almost had to take a second row, when Evansville made 'em go overtime Wednesday night.

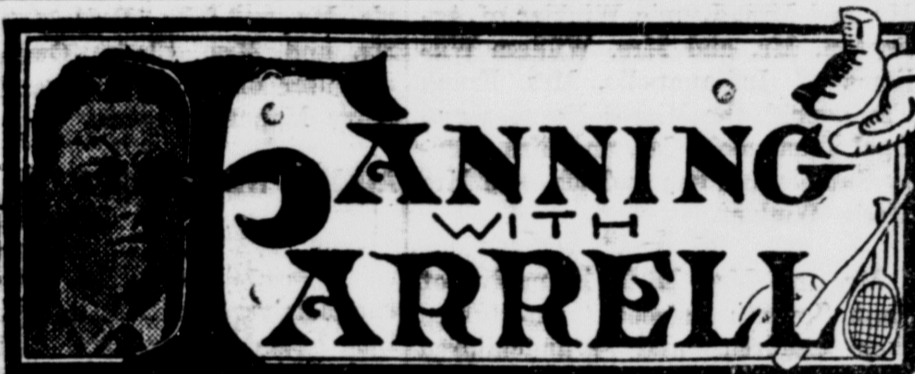

A former Rushville girl, Helen Reardon, who is now Mrs. Howard Kehl of Connersville, won the prize in the Connersville News for the nearest correct guess on the Rushville-Connersville game last week. She guessed the score would be Rushville 36, Connersville 24, missing it two points, as the score was 35 to 23. She got a big box of candy and a bouquet of flowers, donated by supporters of the Connersville team.

WHY DON'T SOME ONE IN RUSHVILLE OFFER CANDY OR SOMETHING AS A REWARD FOR THE NEAREST GUESS ON SCORES. IT ADDS MUCH INTEREST TO THE GAMES.

Little Is Now Head Coach

The future of football at Michigan rests with Coach George Little. Three years ago Fielding Yost (shown in background) secured Little as his assistant, hoping he would prove the very man for the position of head coach. Yost, who directs all athletics at Michigan, realized he could no longer devote all his time to any one sport and was looking to the future when he selected Little. Only two defeats in the three years that Little has assisted Yost has convinced the big chief that Little is the man for the job. While the news has not been heralded from the house, Little is now head football coach at Michigan with full authority.

Scandal Still up to Landis

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 26—As was to have been expected from the earlier tendency of baseball to talk lightly about the New York Giant scandal, the annual winter meetings of the major league club owners passed with only veiled references to the attempt at bribery which caused Cozy Dolan and Jimmy O'Connell to be banished from baseball.

The National League passed resolutions endorsing the administration of Commissioner Landis and praising the way the scandal was handled by the Commissioner and John A. Heydler, the National League president. Heydler in his annual report said it was about time for the National League to be freed from the attacks of an unnamed person. Perhaps it was meant as a slap at Ban Johnson, who said some nasty things about the league and some of its members when the Dolan-O'Connell scandal was made public.

The American League also took an indirect slap at its president by passing resolutions assuring the Commissioner that the American League was with him and by appointing a committee to attempt a reconciliation between Johnson and Landis.

But the only reference to the scandal was contained in a National League resolution that the investigation of the Dolan-O'Connell case never would be dropped.

Perhaps if Commissioner Landis had been able to preside over the joint meetings of the two leagues something might have leaked out about the inside of the scandal. Everyone believes there was an inside to it even if the club owners would have believed that everything has been told and that there isn't any more to tell.

If it is true that there is nothing more to the scandal than what has been made public, why doesn't the commissioner of baseball make public the testimony that was taken from Dolan and O'Connell? If there is more to the scandal than what has been related and if the publication of the testimony would give away any information that might block further investigation, why doesn't the Commissioner say so?

In the handling of the 1919 baseball scandal, baseball was dealing with a public that had so much faith in the integrity of professional baseball that it wouldn't believe the stories of corruption told about the White Sox players. When the confessions were made public, the first shock was followed by a skeptical opinion. "How long has this been going on?"

In handling this latest scandal, baseball seems to believe that it has the same kind of a public in the jury box and that its public simply will not believe that there is nothing wrong when the magnates say there isn't.

Word's Real Meaning

When we say "going downstairs," we really mean, if the phrase is used rightly, "going up." "Down" is derived from the Saxon word "dun" which means a hill or upland. The opposite to "dun" is "a-dun" so what we should say when a descent is meant, is "going a-downstairs."

ADMITS HE RANSACKED A HOUSE HERE

Continued from Page One completely ransacked, and much of the household effects had been moved to the rear porch, indicating that they were placed there to be hauled away in a machine.

According to Sheriff Hunt, Snider told him that he was on a visit in the country recently, and picked up an old newspaper in which it stated that the Waggener family had gone, and he knew the coast was clear.

He had been staying in the house probably a week, Snider told Sheriff Hunt that two friends from Newcastle had a truck and they were preparing to move the goods out as soon as they could find a place to hide them, or market them.

Snider has been in frequent trouble here, and has served a term. He is about 24 years old. His father's residence was entered a couple of weeks ago, and about $100 worth of articles stolen, and the boy was suspected of being guilty. When confronted with the question by Sheriff Hunt in the Connersville jail, the boy is said to have replied "The old man ought to be robbed."

A charge of surety of the peace is pending against him in Justice Stech's court, as he had never been arrested following a recent outbreak in a grocery store in the northwest part of the city, when Snider is charged with having drawn a revolver on the store owner and threatened to shoot him, for no apparent reason.

Orean Snider, Arrested in Connersville For Stealing Automobile, Wanted in Rushville

IDENTIFIED BY LOCAL MAN

Confesses Having Tried to Loot Roy Waggener's Home When Confronted by Clarence Walden

FRIENDS TO TAKE GOODS

Will Probably Be Arraigned in Connersville for Vehicle Taking—Wanted on Other Charges

Orean Snider of this city is in jail in Connersville on a charge of stealing an automobile, and is wanted in this city for having broken into the home of Roy Waggener, Eleventh and Morgan streets, after having been identified by Clarence Walden as the one whom he met leaving the house when the robbery was discovered last Saturday afternoon.

According to Sheriff Hunt, who went to Connersville with Mr. Walden and Police Chief Blackburn, the young man admitted his guilt and confessed to having entered the house. He also is implicated in the theft of offices at Greensburg on the week before, when a physician's office was ransacked and an overcoat stolen, and also a kit of narcotics.

The drug outfit was found in the Waggener house, but according to the police, the drugs had been emptied, leaving only the empty vials and needles.

Snider was arrested in Connersville early Wednesday morning. According to the officers, he was standing beside a machine that had been stolen from Bentonville, north of Connersville. The machine had run out of gasoline, and was parked in an alley in the business district.

The officers state that Snider admitted crawling into a garage nearby and obtained a quantity of gasoline from a car parked inside, and as he came out of the garage, two police officers came down the dark alley, and came upon him as he laid the can on the running board. He was questioned concerning the machine, and when he did not give a good account of it, the officers took him to jail.

He later told them that he had not stolen the car but another person from Rushville had done it, and he was with him. However, the police are holding him on that charge, and he will be arraigned in the circuit court there, when the court convenes in a few days.

Officers from here were notified, and they went over to Connersville Wednesday afternoon to consult with the prisoner. According to Sheriff Hunt, Snider denied any connection locally, but when Mr. Walden identified him, and the local officers were preparing to leave, Snider is said to have admitted it.

Sheriff Hunt stated that Snider wanted to come back here to face the charge, instead of answering to a vehicle taking charge on Connersville, but officers of that city have first option, and if they do not arraign him, he will be brought here to answer to a burglary charge, which carries a ten to 20 year sentence, according to Gates Ketchum, prosecutor.

When arrested Snider is said to have had on clothes stolen from the Waggener home, and which were identified by Mr. Walden as belonging to Mr. Waggener. Even the undergarments are said to have had Mr. Waggener's laundry stamp.

It will be recalled that the home was ransacked here, and the robbery discovered when Mr. Walden went to the house late in the afternoon last Saturday, and was met at the front door by a young man.

The man told him that he wanted to get warm and had entered by the way of the back door, which he said was unlocked. After Mr. Walden had believed him, he told the man to get in his machine and he would take him to a place where he could get warm, but the man disappeared.

After Mr. Walden entered the house, he found that it had been

THIRTEEN BODIES RECOVERED, 7 MISSING

Flood Devastates Holston River Valley and Parmertown Va., When Dam Gives Away

FIFTEEN HOMES SWEEP AWAY

(By United Press)

Saltsville, Va., Dec. 26—Thirteen bodies have been recovered and seven persons were still missing today in the wake of the flood which devastated the Holston river valley and Parmertown, Va., Christmas eve. Fifteen homes in the little mill settlement were swept away before a torrent of white muck and water when the dam of the Mathieson alkali works gave way.

The entire valley was inundated by the muck and water which was released on the village without warning when the storage dam burst.

Nineteen injured were being treated in an emergency hospital here. Several have contracted pneumonia as a result of the exposure in the icy water and others were severely burned by alkali in the muck. Scores of others made homeless by the flood were given shelter in the local homes and business houses.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT IN ABDOMEN BY SON

Mrs. Conrad Kney Not Expected to Recover From Wound Suffered Christmas Afternoon

INTESTINES ARE PUNCTURED

Woman of Manilla Vicinity Removed to Hospital for Operation—Morris, 16, Held Gun

Mrs. Erminie Kney, forty-three years of age, wife of Conrad Kney, living one mile east of Manilla, was probably fatally shot by her son, Morris, age sixteen years, at their home Thursday afternoon about four o'clock.

The shooting was accidental. Mrs. Kney was removed to the Major Memorial hospital for an operation, but little hope was held out today for her recovery.

Young Kney was preparing for a short hunting trip and was examining his .22 calibre rifle when his glove caught in the trigger and caused it to fire.

The bullet struck Mrs. Kney in the abdomen and punctured her intestines in four different places.

Dr. D. E. Barnett was called and Mrs. Kney was rushed to the hospital when the seriousness of her condition was discovered.

Dr. Demetris Inlow, formerly of Manilla, performed an operation to remove the bullet, but very grave doubt was expressed as to her ability to recover from the wound.

The boy was grief-stricken over the Christmas day tragedy, which will probably cost the life of his mother.

He is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Kney. They had finished Christmas dinner only a short time before the boy had decided on a short hunting trip before dark.

Mrs. Kney is widely known in the Manilla vicinity. She is the daughter of Mrs. Charles McDaniel and a niece of Erasmus MacDaniel of Shelbyville.

The shooting recalls a holiday tragedy in the Manilla neighborhood a year ago when, on Friday, December 28, Russell Risher, age 19, was killed when a 12 gauge shotgun exploded by accident in his hands. The tragedy happened on a half mile west of Manilla.

LOG FALLS ON LEG, BROKEN

Milton Long suffered a badly broken leg Wednesday afternoon when he was assisting his cousin, Ralph Bowen, in loading logs on Mr. Snider's farm, north of Orange. In some manner they lost control of one of the logs they were loading and it fell on one of Mr. Long's legs, breaking two bones.

BAD EGGS MAKE BAD HATCHING

Young Woman Rides 12 Miles on Front of Engine After Auto Crash

Mrs. Kenneth Clark, 18, Clings to Cow Catcher of Speeding Locomotive When It Strikes Machine, Near Indianapolis, But Loses Consciousness and Falls Off Due to Extreme Cold—Impact Not Noticed on Train

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 26—Smiling gamely from a hospital cot, Mrs. Kenneth Clark, 18 today deprecated the movie thriller in real life in which she rode twelve miles through zero weather on the cow catcher of a speeding locomotive which had crashed into her automobile.

"It was just a natural thing to do," she said, "When the engine hit our car and I was thrown into the air, my hands went out above my head and they caught something in the dark—God knows what. But I held on for dear life and realized soon that I was clinging to the front end of the engine and riding fast. So I stuck, but the cold air seemed to eat right into my bones and pretty soon I didn't seem to remember much and there I guess I passed out of the picture."

Mrs. Clark smiled again. The next thing she remembered was when she was lying in a bed in a farm house with a group of people trying to restore her to consciousness.

"It seemed like I was waking up out of a dream," she said.

The Knickerbocker Special on the Big Four railroad travelling from New York at a sixty mile speed, struck an automobile in which Mrs. Clark was riding at a crossing in Indianapolis. Three members of Mrs. Clark's family were injured in the accident, but the impact was not noticeable to the crew of the train because of the speed at which they were travelling.

Kenneth Clark, recovering from shock of the accident, notified storekeepers across the street from the crossing and aid was summoned, but his wife could not be found.

County and city authorities formed searching parties and searched in the darkness along the track. An agent at "a jerk water" station notified police he saw a woman riding the pilot of the Knickerbocker Special locomotive, screaming and waving a handkerchief.

A special switch engine trailed the fast train to Fort Harrison and returned to Indianapolis. Farther on, near Oaklandon, twelve miles from the scene of the accident a farmer picked up the girl's unconscious form and notified authorities.

RESIDENTS OF BABBS SWITCH BURY THE DEAD

Thirty-Three Men, Women and Children Perish in Flames Near Hobart, Oklahoma

SCHOOL HOUSE A DEATH TRAP

Hobart, Okla., Dec. 26—With Christmas a haunting memory, residents of Babbs Switch, small community seven miles south, gathered here today to bury the thirty-three men, women and children who perished in a disastrous Christmas eve fire which made the small community school house a death trap.

The charred remains of another body, believed to be Lilly Reil, was removed from the ruins of what was school house No. 42 last night.

Most of the 37 injured are expected to die momentarily.

Resting in plain black caskets, the simplicity of which bore out their Puritanic mode of living, sixteen of the victims will be at a union funeral service here this afternoon.

Grim faced men, part of the 180 persons who escaped the licking tongues of the flames which enveloped the small one-story frame building when a tiny candle in the top of the large Christmas tree overturned, were busy digging graves in the ice-covered ground this morning.

FATE IN HANDS OF NINE WOMEN AND THREE MEN

Case in Which "Kid" McCoy Is Accused of Murder of Mrs. Teresa Mors Goes to the Jury

INSTRUCTIONS BY THE COURT

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 26—The fate of Kid McCoy was today in the hands of nine women and three men.

To them goes the task of deciding whether the former idol of the fight arena and man of many loves, will hang because his last affair had its ending in death.

Charges with the murder of Mrs. Teresa Mors, McCoy listened intently while Superior Judge Crail instructed the jury. The "Kid" was depressed and revealed the anxiety which gripped him.

Judge Crail charged the jury not to consider McCoy's action on the morning after Mrs. Mors' death when he "shot up" the antique shop she and her husband owned.

"Take into consideration the condition of the defendant with respect to his mental state," the court instructed. He closed with reference to McCoy's story that Mrs. Mors was killed while he tried to prevent her from committing suicide.

"If you entertain a reasonable belief that the woman died from committing suicide," the judge admonished, "then it will be your duty to find the defendant not guilty."

COUNTY AUDITOR IS INDICTED

Leo K. Fesler Is Accused of Altering Marion County Record

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 26—Leo K. Fesler, county auditor of Marion county, for eight years ending December 21, 1923, was indicted today by the county grand jury on a charge of altering a public record.

Fesler, at present Republican member of the county election board is accused of changing an ordinance passed by the county council, May 10, 1923, authorizing sale of county land to Fairbanks, Morse and Company, so the company could obtain more land than the council intended to sell.

MRS. DAN MILES DIES

Relatives here have received word of the death of Mrs. Dan Miles, aged 50 years, which occurred Christmas eve at the late residence in Dayton, Ohio. Double pneumonia was the cause of the death. Mrs. Miles was born and reared in this city and has many relatives living here.

CHRISTMAS LIQUOR CLAIMS FEWER LIVES

Number of Fatalities Smaller Than in 1923 Though Hospitals Are Filled With Those Who Partook

SEVERAL EXPECTED TO DIE

(By United Press)

Poison Christmas liquor claimed fewer lives this year than in 1923, figures from the nation's principal cities indicated today. While hospitals are filled with those who partook of the liquor, the number of fatalities was smaller.

Three deaths occurred in New York and four of twenty-two others who are in hospitals may die. Chicago reported two deaths, Austin, Cleveland and Scranton, Pa., one each. There were no deaths in Philadelphia, although thirty victims are in hospitals. San Antonio, Texas, reported two women dying.

Last Christmas there were five deaths in New York city from poison liquor.

COLDEST CHRISTMAS ON RECORD LOCALLY

Mercury Drops to Ten Degrees Below Zero Thursday Morning and Almost as Low This Morning

ABUNDANCE OF GOOD CHEER

Children of the Unfortunates Remembered and 175 Dinners Distributed—Suffering From Cold

(By United Press)

Chicago, Dec. 26—Another cold wave will hit the northwest tonight and sweep eastward and southward across the middle districts tomorrow, the weather bureau announced today.

Rather cold weather prevails over most of the country, the bureau stated.

A redevelopment of the cold wave was reported at Alberta. Temperatures there range from 30 below to 40 below zero.

It is 18 below in Grand Junction, Colo., 12 below in Flagstaff, Ariz., and in Boise, Idaho, 8 below in Salt Lake City, Utah, and 18 below in points in Nevada.

Rush county celebrated Christmas Thursday in the coldest weather within the memory of most people.

The day was ushered in with the thermometer at ten degrees below zero and the mercury did not rise many degrees above zero during the day.

Although cold, the day was ideal for Christmas, with a blanket of snow covering the earth, even though the extremely cold weather caused suffering among many poor people without sufficient heat in their homes.

The temperature was the lowest of the winter Christmas morning and during Thursday night the mercury went down to eight below zero.

Although the weather was moderating today, the weather bureau forecast another cold wave on the heels of the present one, which will bring sub-zero temperatures again to the middle west.

An hour after sunrise this morning the government thermometer at Mauney showed a rise of twelve degrees and during the day the mercury continued to climb, but did not reach freezing.

Christmas cheer was abundant in Rushville. One hundred and seventy-five families had good Christmas dinners, due to the work of local charitable organizations and the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Santa Claus fund. This fund was also responsible for one hundred and sixty-five children being made happy, whose Christmas would otherwise have been cheerless.

Uncle Sam's employees, working at high speed, delivered every Christmas parcel to Rushville addresses that was received Christmas morning, the delivery being completed by 11:15 o'clock. First class mail was not delivered, due to the order that all postal employees should stop work at eleven o'clock. No mail was delivered on the rural routes.

CITY ALMOST UP TO 1923

Ripley Township Leads Group of Townships Heard From Today With Sales of $45.18

The 1923 high mark in the Christmas Seals and Health Bond campaign appeared nearer today with reports having been received from all but two townships in the county—Washington and Orange.

The total to date is $1,768.27 and workers in the campaign are anxious that a few sales in Rushville city unreported and the two townships will be sufficient to raise the fund up to, if not above the amount raised in 1923, which was in excess of $1,800.

Noble township continued to hold the lead outside the city with sales amounting to $52.05.

In Rushville city the receipts this year—$1,422.91—were almost the equal of city sales last year when $1,433.65 was raised here. In 1922 the city sales were $1,332.52.

Walker, Anderson, Center, Jackson and Ripley townships reported today, Ripley leading this group with receipts of $45.18.

In the Jackson township list appears the sale of a bond without the name of the purchaser being given. The Farm Bureau and children of the township school are jointly entitled to the credit as the women of the farm bureau held a function at the school and the children were largely purchasers of the things which were sold. The money thus raised was used to buy the bond.

Di-Jo Relieves Indigestion

There is no doubt that many people suffer needlessly from indigestion and stomach trouble. If they only knew the relief that can be secured through Di-Jo Tablets this number would be much less.

Most cases of indigestion arise from overeating, eating too fast or eating the wrong kind of food. In all such cases a few Di-Jo Tablets after each meal will give almost instant relief to that heavy, bloated feeling, belching or sour stomach.

The simple drugs used in the preparation of Di-Jo are intended for just such relief and are the same as prescribed by family physicians for years. They are packed in convenient form for your use.

Try Di-Jo Tablets and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell and recommend them.

If you are troubled with constipation take Di-Jo. It is sold by all druggists, and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

Removing Tattoo Marks

Although tattoo marks generally are asserted to be indelible if produced by the insertion of some carbonaceous matter, it is said they will disappear if first well rubbed with a salve of pure acetic acid and lard, then with a solution of potash and finally with a solution of hydrochloric acid. It would be advisable to consult a skin specialist.

"Sweeping" the Clouds

The fabled performance of the old woman of the nursery rhyme who "swept" the cobwebs out of the sky has a scientific parallel in the ability of aviators under some conditions to brush small clouds out of the sky by flying through them rapidly, says London Tit-Bits. A fair-sized summer cumulus or fair-weather cloud may sometimes be dispersed by about twenty flights through it.

Where Walnuts Flourish

Commercial success in growing the English walnut is found only in southern California. In the Eastern states, so far as the present data show, it may be said that the Persian walnut flourishes on all soils upon which the black walnut is found, and under favorable conditions on some others. Sandy loams, clay loams and gravelly loams if not too open, are suitable for the growth of this tree.

WILL NOT REMOVE TROOPS BY JAN. 10

Germany Informed by British That They Will Not Evacuate Cologne as Agreed in Treaty

VIOLATED TERMS, IS CHARGE

Complaint is Made That Disarmament Obligations Have Not Been Carried Out by Germany

By A. L. BRADFORD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Dec. 26.—The allies will inform Germany that British troops will not evacuate Cologne, by January 10 as stipulated in the Versailles treaty.

The reason given will be that Germany has not fulfilled her disarmament obligations.

This, the United Press learned will be a joint answer to representations concerning the evacuation made by German ambassadors at allied capitals.

Reports from Berlin indicate the Germans are exercised because the First or Cologne zone, is not to be evacuated as provided in Article 429 of the Versailles treaty. This called for a return of the first zone of occupied Germany within five years of the coming into effect of the treaty, or by January 10, 1925.

The allied attitude, however, is that provision was made that Germany must have faithfully carried out other conditions of the treaty. The principal one of these had to do with disarmament of Germany.

A report of the inter-allied control commission regarding Germany's disarmament was received yesterday by Marshal Foch's interallied military committee, which met to make recommendations about the evacuation of Cologne. It was learned that the report indicated that Germany has not fulfilled the treaty requirements.

The council of allied ambassadors will meet Friday to discuss Marshal Foch's recommendations and undoubtedly will decide that Cologne shall not be evacuated.

That Germany herself knows this is indicated by the fact that when the German ambassador at London called upon Austin Chamberlain, British foreign secretary and presented his government's demand for evacuation of Cologne, he suggested that Great Britain reply separately indicating to Germany some good reason why evacuation could not be effect at present. The reason as both Chamberlain and the German envoy knew was that the French would promptly move in if the British moved out.

But Great Britain declined to make a separate reply.

The League Controversy

The whole league of nations controversy, that aroused so much political fire in recent years, may be revived by the representations of Germany, which seeks to have the rights of neutrals defined and to determine the extent of the moral obligations of member nations to enforce Article 10.

Students of the subject say that Germany's claims are based on the same principles as were contained in the famous reservations to Article 10, which were written by the late Senator Lodge and around which the campaign of 1916 was largely fought.

Freed from the rancor that political prejudices cause, a full and free discussion of these questions in the United States might be of some advantage, because it is becoming clearer every day that this country can not remain entirely aloof from European affairs.

Germany has placed before the league squarely the question of interpreting Articles 10 and 16, a thing which the league has evaded so far.

If the league should place a liberal interpretation on these two articles, certainly the United States would again have to make known its attitude, because acceptance of Germany's position with respect to these two articles would be tantamount to inviting the United States into the league.

Refusing to come over to Germany's way of thinking would place the league in a hazardous position, because it could scarcely insure the peace of Europe with Germany not in accord with its attitude.

Furthermore, the league can never be of really vital importance in world affairs without the most powerful nation, the United States, in full sympathy with its program and ready to help carry it out.

When Tragedy Stalks

A picture—An automobile filled with happy people returning home with thoughts of a happy Christmas; a steep grade at the top of which is a railroad crossing; automobile engine chokes climbing hill and stalls on crossing; train, running fast to make up lost time snuffs out the lives of four persons and fatally injures a fifth.

Another picture—A district school house packed to the doors; nearly all the bags of good things have been passed into anxious little hands; Jolly Santa Claus reaches for the last one and knocks over a candle on the Christmas tree; cotton used for decorations flames up; scores rush forward to put out the fire; the tree falls and the dry cedar pops as the blaze devours the dry branches; frenzied people break out window panes and the wind fans the flames; thirty-two dead all because of thoughtlessness.

This is not fiction but fact. The man who drove the automobile knew the train crossed the highway at the top of the steep grade and he knew that motor engines were likely to balk on cold days.

But he didn't think.
The Santa Claus who played with death in the little district school knew the danger of fire was great and that lighted candles on dry Christmas trees decorated with cotton and flimsy ornaments were the finger that would cause the tragedy which was enacted.

But he didn't think.
When tragedy stalks, the principal never think. And there's the pity. Countless victims fill graves all too soon because someone failed to think.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The Philippine him, through the Department of Labor and communications at Manila, that they would like to join the League of Nations if they could, to taken in rather unexpected fashion in Washington, considering the general policy of the dominant political party of today.

"Oh, if the islands only could be unloaded onto the league."

That's the tone of a great deal of the comment heard from men high enough in administration councils to know how the government really feels.

The truth is, the Philippines are embarrassing President Coolidge seriously.

American business interests in the archipelago are considerable, but they are in the hands of a comparatively small group, which the president knows the vast majority of people in the United States have small inclination to give money and blood to protect.

So long as there seemed to be no prospect that such expenditures were going to be required, it was all very well for the Washington government to ignore the group's contention that America is morally bound to keep the flag flying over the islands.

Now, however, with the whole American people at home clamoring for economy, comes the Japanese threat, meaning huge naval expenditures for the islands'— safety—and for nothing else.

The Philippines are America's weak spot.
They're a liability rather than an asset, but the United States couldn't afford to have them taken away from her forcibly, even if it would be a relief.

By grabbing them, Japan, at any time, could compel this country to go to war with her.

The advantage would be all with Japan. America would have to keep her fleet on duty in Philippine waters.

There alone could the Japanese strike at her, so that's where her fighting ships would have to be.
So concentrated, they couldn't guard American merchant vessels anywhere in the Pacific. American trade would be driven from the sea.

It might suffer even on the Atlantic. A Japanese raider or two could at least render it insecure.

But if it weren't for the Philippines? If the United States were not responsible for them?

Leaving them out of consideration, there's little Japan can do to this country.

A FEW airplanes, submarines and mines could adequately protect the Pacific coast and Hawaii, the enemy would be forced to fight at such long range.

The Japanese navy might make trouble for American merchant ships in the western Pacific, but at the same time the American navy would be making corresponding trouble for Japanese merchant ships in the eastern part of the same ocean.

It would be war, but a war in which the United States would be at no disadvantage. She might even be at some advantage, through possession of Hawaii as a base, much nearer to Japan than any base Japan could find for herself in the direction of the American coast.

As a non-member, America has,
of course, no means of getting her white elephant off from her own and onto the League of Nations' hands, but if the administration could, there's small question that it would, and as soon as possible.

Agnes Ayres at Princess

"Wordly Goods," a Paramount picture of the novel by Sophie Kerr, starring Agnes Ayres, will be the feature at the Princess theatre for a run of two days beginning today, next. Paul Bern directed the production which was adapted for the screen by A. P. Younger.

The story is a fine domestic comedy-drama of real human people.
It first appeared as a serial in the Ladies' Home Journal and has since proved unusually successful as a novel.

Miss Ayres has the role of Eleanor Lawson, young secretary of the manager of a large department store. Pat O'Malley is Fred Hopper whom she marries. He is an automobile salesman, gifted with a great line of talk and "high-falutin'" ideas of the future. In fact, he's all ideas and no initiative. Victor Varconi is east as the store manager, Clifford Ramsay. It is about these three that the story revolves—and it's not the time-worn eternal triangle theme either, but something really new.
Paul Bern is a now-director ("Open All Night" was his first work for the screen), and he has introduced some novel ideas into "Wordly Goods."

LIONS SHOW STUFF THAT WINS GAMES

Pull Brownsburg Contest Out of the Fire When Defeat by Fast Visiting Five Seemed Inevitable

OVERCOME 14 POINT LEAD

Enough Bad Luck to Last all Season Cheated Rushville Out of Several Field Goals

Displaying another one of those famous last half comebacks, the Rushville Lions came from behind a fourteen point lead to win from Brownsburg high school here Wednesday night, and after getting started on their comeback, the locals left Brownsburg behind 45 to 40.

The Lions were clear off on hitting the basket and if they had made one-half of their shots in the first half, they could have won three or four games, but it seemed as if the ball would not go through the hoop for any player. On the other hand Brownsburg had luck with them from the start, and they could hit the basket from all angles.

The first half was a farce, as far as Rushville was concerned, because the ball would hit the rim, bounce off, or drop half way through and then jump out again, and no matter how much coaxing the Lions would do, it just simply wouldn't drop in the right direction. The first half ended 25 to 15 in favor of the visitors.

When the second half started, it appeared again to be the same bad luck, for Brownsburg soon piled up 29, leaving Rushville behind with their 15 points. It was at this point in the game that the locals started their climb, and from then on, the game speeded up with more enthusiasm, and before long the count was tied. The Lions displayed the fight that wins games, and Coach Swain is hoping that the ill luck has left the team, because they met Newcastle Saturday night in that city, and it will take real playing all of the way to win the game.

At the start of the game Wednesday night, McNamara fouled and then Lakin fouled, and when the visiting players got loose, they hit the basket from all points, and the Lions seemed to be weakening on their defense. Brownsburg in the first few minutes ran the count up to 9 before Rushville counted.

Arbuckle for Rushville scored first, making one point on a foul, and missing the other. In the next few minutes the score was 13 to 1, but the Lions managed to get the score up to 7 before Brownsburg scored again. Then the teams went back and forth up the floor, Brownsburg having the best of things, with the first half ending 25 to 15.

At the start of the last half, the same thing happened again, with Brownsburg breaking loose on the basket, and Rushville failed to budger from their 15 points, while Brownsburg was collecting 29. It was apparently a run away for the visitors.

Jenkins, at this point in the game, fouled, but Arbuckle missed both times, and then on the tip-off Lakin grabbed a field goal which put renewed pep into the Lions. Then the locals were off. Baskets by Newbold, Arbuckle, Miller and Lakin, all in fast time, boosted the score 29 to 25.

Bell scored for the visitors, and then Lakin watched the goal for Rushville. Lakin scored one on a foul, that made the score 31 to 28. Lakin fouled and Webb scored on both chances for the visitors, making the score 33 to 28. Arbuckle dribbled through for a basket, but Brownsburg came right back and made one, putting the score 35 to 30.

If everything didn't fit, you have three days in which to exchange it.

For a time Wednesday night, Hittin' 'em thought that we'd have a basketball game to exchange with someone, but the Lions finally got through and the Santa Clauses brought in the victory over Brownsburg 45 to 40.

EVERY PLAYER ON THAT BROWNSBURG TEAM HAD AN EYE FOR THE BASKET. IT WAS EITHER LUCK, OR NATURAL ABILITY, AND FOR A TIME IT LOOKED LIKE BAD LUCK FOR RUSHVILLE.

Say you, Lions, don't fool like that with Newcastle Saturday night. Go into 'em early, watch your defense and never lay down when you get the lead.

That is one thing about these Lions, they never give up, no matter if they are 14 points behind.

TRAMP THOSE TROJANS!

Arlington plays at Carthage tonight. The game should be a real scrap, because of the rivalry between these teams.

Louis Means, former Moscow mentor, but now of New Palestine Red Bird fame, will be the referee for the Rushville-Carthage game next Friday at Carthage.

The Rushville crowd will have a cold road to Newcastle Saturday night, but the game should be a hot one to make up for the trip.

scored field goals, and Rushville was within one of tying the score, 35 to 34, and when Newbold dropped one through, the locals were ahead 36 to 35, and when a foul was called on Miller, the crowd booed and the referee called another one on the crowd, giving Brownsburg two shots, and they made one, tying the score at 36 points. Then the visitors took a spurt and counted twice from the field, making it 40 to 36. It required only a minute for Rushville to get those two goals back, when McNamara and Lakin scored, and then Lakin counted again, making it 42 to 40.

Webb fouled for Brownsburg and Arbuckle scored one more, making it 43 to 40, and in the closing minute of play, Miller dropped a long one from the side, making it 45 to 40 when the half was over.

The line-up and summary:

Rushville 45 Brownsburg 40
Newbold F. H. Bell
Arbuckle F. C. Bell
Lakin C. Miller
McNamara G. H. Webb
Miller G. Jenkins
Substitutions: Winkelman for Jenkins. Field goals, Newbold 5, Arbuckle 3, Lakin 6, McNamara 2, Miller 3, Brownsburg: H. Bell 4, C. Webb 2, Miller 2, H. Webb 3, Jenkins, Winkelman. Referee Morrison, umpire Sheenaman.

Cubs Stage Rally Too

The Rushville second team also had to stage a last half rally in order to win from the Brownsburg seconds, who at the end of the first half were ahead 10 to 9, but in the last half Rushville went away ahead, and the final count was 27 to 13, with the visitors only making 3 points in the last half.

The Cubs showed better work in the game than in any previous contest, and the players worked well together.

The line-up and summary:

Rushville 27 Brownsburg 13
Newbold F. McCoun
R. Winkler F. Bersoff
Cartmel C. Gullion
L. Winkler G. J. Gladden
Cortner G. Hughes
Substitutions: Rushville, Weakley, Risk and Morris; Brownsburg, Huddleston and H. Gladden. Field goals, Newbold 3, Cortner 3, L. Winkler 3, McCoun, Beroff, H. Gladden 2; foul goals, Newbold 2, R. Winkler, Cartmel 3, L. Winkler 3, McCoun 4, H. Gladden. Referee Lasworth.

MORRISTOWN WANTS A CHANCE

Dear Hittin' 'em:

There surely would be a tragedy for the Lions in the Liens den if Bill's wonders from Morristown should happen to mix with the Lions. Morristown has won 11 out of 12 games and hasn't started good yet. We mean to take the Camels from Shelby this time, too.

Also ask Vance Downey about the Morristown K. of P. team. Here's luck,

TOUGH FOR SOMEONE

The sixteen teams comprising these in the invitational tourney for independent teams, will get started this afternoon at three o'clock in the big two-day series at Greensburg. Four Rush county teams are entered and Arlington drew probably the hardest of all, meeting the Commercial of Columbus. The drawing is as follows:

Milan vs Waldron
New Point vs Vevay
Hepe vs Moores Hill
Milroy vs Letts
Moscow vs Jackson
Columbus vs Arlington
Greensburg Y vs Felix Club (Indpls)
Fairland vs New Salem.

Hosier Courtship in the Richmond Palladium, gives his opinion of how a basketball team should be balanced. He says:

Forwards should know when to go in and when to stay out—When to shoot and when not to shoot and above all be able to come back on defense and still be the first down the floor on offense.

Centers should play consistently through the middle of the floor taking and sending passes to forwards, mixing them up to both sides.

Progressive guards should know the art of trailing to receive passes from men who get in jams up the court.

Last but not least, the backguard is the athlete that makes the impression in any game. If he gets the ball away with lightning work he is a good one but just let a man slip behind him for a short shot and that same backguard looks like he never had seen a basketball.

Vincennes, which boasts of being the only major team in Indiana high school circles without a defeat, almost had to take a second row, when Evansville made 'em go overtime Wednesday night.

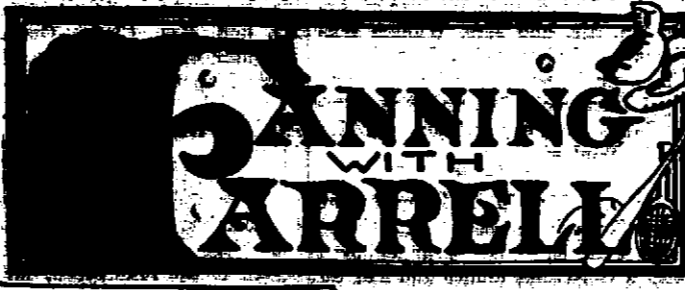

A former Rushville girl, Helen Reardon, who is now Mrs. Howard Kehl of Connersville, won the prize in the Connersville News for the correct guess on the Rushville-Connersville game last week. She guessed the score would be Rushville 36, Connersville 24, missing it two points, as the score was 35 to 23. She got a big box of candy and a bouquet of flowers, donated by supporters of the Connersville team.

WHY DON'T SOME ONE IN RUSHVILLE OFFER CANDY OR SOMETHING AS A REWARD FOR THE NEAREST GUESS ON SCORES. IT ADDS MUCH INTEREST TO THE GAMES.

Little Is Now Head Coach

The future of football at Michigan rests with Coach George Little. Three years ago, Fred Yost (shown in background) secured Little as his assistant, hoping he would prove the very man for the position of head coach. Yost, who drops all athletics at Michigan, realized he could no longer devote all his time to any one sport and was looking to the future when he selected Little. Only two defeats in the three years that Little has assisted Yost has convinced the big chief that Little is the man for the job. While the game has not been heralded from the newspapers, Little is now head football coach at Michigan with full authority.

Scandal Still up to Landis

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 26—As was to have been expected from the earlier tendency of baseball to talk lightly about the New York-Giant scandal, the annual winter meetings of the major league club owners passed with only veiled references to the attempt at bribery which caused Cozy Dolan and Jimmy O'Connell to be banished from baseball.

The National League passed resolutions endorsing the administration of Commissioner Landis and praising the way the scandal was handled by the Commissioner and John A. Heydler, the National League president. Heydler in his annual report said it was about time for the National League to be freed from the attacks of an unnamed person. Perhaps it was meant as a slap at Ban Johnson, who said some nasty things about the league and some of its members when the Dolan-O'Connell scandal was made public.

The American League also took an indirect slap at its president by passing resolutions assuring the Commissioner that the American League was with him and by appointing a committee to attempt a reconciliation between Johnson and Landis.

But the only reference to the scandal was contained in a National League resolution that the investigation of the Dolan-O'Connell case never would be dropped.

Perhaps if Commissioner Landis had been able to preside over the joint meetings of the two leagues something might have leaked out about the inside of the scandal. Everyone believes there was an inside to it even if the club owners would have believed that everything has been told and that there isn't any more to tell.

If it is true that there is nothing more to the scandal than what has been made public, why doesn't the commissioner of baseball make public the testimony that was taken from Dolan and O'Connell? If there is more to the scandal than what has been related and if the publication of the testimony would give away any information that might block further investigation, why doesn't the Commissioner say so?

In the handling of the 1919 baseball scandal, baseball was dealing with a public that had so much faith in the integrity of professional baseball that it wouldn't believe the stories of corruption told about the White Sox players. When the confessions were made public, the

In handling this latest scandal, baseball seems to believe that it has the same kind of a public in the jury box and that its public simply will not believe that there is nothing wrong when the magnates say there isn't.

"Something Just as Good"

A woman in New Mexico received the following letter from a Philadelphia firm: "Dear Madam: We are sorry to state that we cannot furnish Pepsy's Diary about which you inquired, but we have Line-a-Day books from $2.50 to $6 each. If you would like one of them, we will be glad to attend to your order as soon as it reaches here."

Word's Real Meaning

When we say "going downstairs," we really mean, if the phrase is used rightly, "going up." "Down" is derived from the Saxon word "dun," which means a hill or upland. The opposite to "dun" is "a-dun" so what we should say when a descent is meant, is "going a-downstairs."

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Mahan entertained with a family dinner Christmas day at their home southwest of the city. A delicious turkey dinner was served to twenty-seven guests, including the nine children and their families. This was the first time that the entire family had been together at one time for ten years. In the afternoon a program was given by the grandchildren and presents were distributed among the guests from the large Christmas tree. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Will Stegelmeier of Shelbyville, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Conn and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Mahan and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Fisher of this city.

Hundred Women Battle for Her

Motherless and deserted by her father, but little Constance Ellen Black's bewitching smile brought more than 100 mothers to a Chicago court room to battle for the privilege of giving her a home. Mrs. John T. Azar, wife of a wealthy Chicago packer, won out.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Mahan and son of Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sample, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mahan and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Owens and daughter of near Mays, and Miss Mary Mahan at home.

completely ransacked, and much of the household effects had been moved to the rear porch, indicating that they were placed there to be hauled away in a machine.

According to Sheriff Hunt, Snider told him that he was on a visit in the country recently, and picked up an old newspaper in which it stated that the Waggener family had gone, and he knew the coast was clear.

He had been staying in the house probably a week, Snider told Sheriff Hunt that two friends from Newcastle had a truck and they were preparing to move the goods out as soon as they could find a place to hide them, or market them.

Snider has been in frequent trouble here, and has served a term. He is about 24 years old. His father's residence was entered a couple of weeks ago, and about $100 worth of articles stolen, and the boy was suspected of being guilty. When confronted with the question by Sheriff Hunt in the Connersville jail, the boy is said to have replied "The old man ought to be robbed."

A charge of surety of the peace is pending against him in Justice Stech's court, as he had never been arrested following a recent outbreak in a grocery store in the northwest part of the city, when Snider is charged with having drawn a revolver on the store owner and threatened to shoot him, for no apparent reason.

WOODMAN TO INITIATE

The Modern Woodmen will have several candidates to initiate Thursday evening, January 1, 1925; also the new password will be given out at that time, and a large attendance of the members is urged for the meeting.

The Modern Woodmen have organized a basketball team and is practicing and expects to be ready to take on other teams soon.

Heroine

Claudia Best, 14-year-old Kansas City schoolgirl, suffered a broken check bone when she darted in front of a speeding automobile and saved the lives of two children. So the Kansas City Safety Council has awarded her its first certificate for heroism.
